

Discipline and Character Instructions Employability Skill-IBT

Upon completion of this lesson, students will understand the importance of good character traits and self-discipline in the workplace.

Discipline: Training to act according to the rules.

Self-Discipline: The ability to control your feelings and overcome your weaknesses; the ability to pursue what you think is right despite temptations.

Character: the way you think, feel and behave; your personality.

Character and Career Activity- Students should find one story or news report from a web resource that reflects how bad character or discipline issues had a major impact on someone's career. Copy and paste that story as a submission through schoology. Familiarize yourself with the story for class discussion.

Select the correct response and note with your submission:

- I have received no more than three discipline referrals during the class grading period and sometimes participates in activities.
- I received one discipline referral during the class grading period and often participates in activities.
- I have received NO discipline referrals during the class grading period.
